

Registration Now Open

We are delighted to announce that registration for ICEM 2012 is now open, giving you the chance over this Winter holiday to start planning your stay in Dublin next June. The theme of ICEM 2012 is 'Bridging the Gap between Evidence and Practice' and through our innovative scientific programme we will bring you world-class keynote speakers, cutting-edge plenary sessions and original research of the highest quality.

To register for ICEM 2012 and avail of the early-bird discounted rates, saving an average of 20% on the standard registration price, please click here. Due to a number of large conferences and events taking place in Dublin at the same time as ICEM 2012, it is highly recommended that you book your accommodation as early as possible to avoid disappointment.

The Early Bird Registration Rate ends Wednesday, 29th February, 2012

Abstracts Submission Extended

Closing Date for abstract submissions is now: 17.00hrs (GMT), Monday 30th January 2012

The final deadline for submitting abstracts for the 14th International Conference on Emergency Medicine has been extended to 17:00, Monday, 30th January, 2012. This will be the final cut off date and no abstracts will be accepted after this date and time. All successful abstracts will be published in the Academic Emergency Medicine Journal

For Abstract Submission Guidelines, please click here

